

February 2009 ~ Vol. 3, Issue 1

Merry Christmas, Happy New Year & Happy Valentine's Day!

Did I miss any? Sorry I've been out of touch. Between the holidays and promoting Touched by Love, the time just slipped away. For a while you'll be receiving my newsletters directly from me, rather than from Fresh Fiction. Let me know if there are any problems, please.

Thank you, thank you, and thank you some more for supporting Touched by Love! Because of you, the book is doing very well. It's getting some good press, too:

"Garrett loves the West: its atmosphere, ruggedness, alpha heroes and strong women. Her novel reflects her passion."

--Romantic Times BookReviews

"Garrett is adept at creating the atmosphere of the Old West wrapped in a romantic story that pulls the reader along to its satisfying conclusion."

--LoveWesternRomances.com

"Captivating and unforgettable... Garrett tells an extraordinary story"

--5 Cups [Ultra Rare Extraordinary Read], Coffee Time Romance

And if you don't have your copy yet, it's available from all the major book outlets. If you don't find it on the shelf, ask them to order it.

DREAMIN' IN DALLAS BOOKSIGNING ~ APRIL 3, 2009

If you're in the Dallas area, join me on Friday, April 3, at 7pm, at the Radisson Hotel in Richardson, Texas, where I will be signing both Touched by Love and Touch of Texas at the ginormous book signing for Dreamin' in Dallas. There will be lots of authors, books and fun. Check out the signing and the conference at dallasromanceauthors.com/conferences/.

I'll be updating my website soon. First I have to learn some new software. Please be patient with me.

I'm still trying to find a good home for Wolf. I'll let you know when he and his lady-love, Lizzie, have a new "address".

Happy Reading!

Tracy

*"I fell in love with her hero."
